

RICHARDSON CONSTRUCTION

has been in business more than 26 years, and is one of the first builders to work in Cedar Creek, beginning in the community in 1992.

CALVIN RICHARDSON

Led by Calvin Richardson,

the company starts the homebuilding process from the client's ideas in order to create truly customized homes. The company has long-standing relationships with the craftsmen that they work with, from framers to cabinetry, and work with only the best in the area for an unparalleled work product for each of their clients.
